Sentence Completion Test Scoring Guidelines

Score your completed sentences as follows:

- P If your response indicates a positive, humorous, or hopeful attitude.
 C If your response indicates conflict, antagonism, pessimism, emotional disturbance.
 N If your response is neutral; that is, it is not clearly positive or conflictive.

The following example shows how a response might be scored: Boys _____

- P are friendly, are easy to get along with, are nice, are swell, are good sports, are considerate, are fun at a party, are good friends, are okay, etc.
 C are a pain in the neck, get on my nerves, can't be trusted, bother me, give me a headache, think they are superior, are rude, are stupid, etc.
 N are human beings, are taller than girls, are stronger than girls, are the opposite sex, are the same sex, etc.

Evaluate each of your responses and categorize it as a "P," "C," or "N" response. Record the total number of each of these types of responses below.

P = _____
 C = _____
 N = _____

Compute your total score by adding 50 to the number of C responses and subtract from this sum the number of P responses. Do not mark omissions if there are any. Total Score = _____

INTERPRETATION

Scores can range from 0 to 100. A low score below 50 would indicate that you have a generally positive outlook on life and that you view life optimistically. A high score about 50 indicates that your outlook on life is somewhat negative and that you view life rather pessimistically.

Mechanisms of Defense

Directions: Identify the defense mechanism listed below being used in the following statements.

Repression: Blocking a threatening idea, memory, or emotion from consciousness.

Projection: Attributing one's own unacceptable feelings and impulses to someone else.

Displacement: Directing one's emotions, especially anger, toward things, animals, or other people that are not the real object of one's feelings.

Sublimation: A special case of displacement in which the displacement of emotions serves a higher cultural or socially useful purpose, as in creation of art or inventions.

Reaction formation: Transforming anxiety-producing thoughts or feelings into their opposites in consciousness.

Regression: Returning to more primitive levels of behavior in defense against anxiety or frustration.

Denial: Refusing to admit that something unpleasant is happening, or that a taboo emotion is being experienced. Denial blocks or distorts perception; repression blocks or distorts memory.
